

We have allowed Deacon Comly the old woman's privilege...

People here have generally supposed that malignancy and avarice were the chief excellencies of William F. Comly...

PARAGON Self-Generating GAS LIGHT

Simplicity, Safety AND ECONOMY!

THIS VALUABLE portable self-illuminating gas light...

light from six ordinary wax tapers...

AMALGAMATED OYSTERS!

AMALGAMATED OYSTERS!

SELECTED AND NO. 1, FRESH Baltimore Oysters

FOR THE BEST Fresh Oysters

GO TO MAXWELL'S

He Always Has Them

NEW BOOKS

JUST RECEIVED AT PAYNES!

A GOOD FIGHT, AND OTHER TALES

Thursday, the 3d inst, was Thanksgiving day in Canada.

The weather is very wintry in England, and there is considerable frost and snow.

It is said that the commander of the British Navy has made a tour of four navy yards with a view to collecting information.

A young man named Burden has been on trial for the murder of his father at Eaton, Ind. The jury rendered a verdict of not guilty.

Professor Felton is a prominent candidate for the Presidency of Harvard College, which has just been vacated by Dr. Walker.

The people of Holderness, N. H., have recently held a levee, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to the purchase of a house for the village.

The Spanish Bishops, in imitation of the French, had commenced publishing pastoral letters in defense of the temporal power of the Pope.

The Memphis Bulletin says that within a fortnight two ladies of that city have collected a sum of $1,000 in aid of the Mount Vernon Fund.

The Michigan State Normal School building at Orono, was consumed by fire on Friday night. Loss $195,000. Insured for $100,000.

G. L. Brown, the distinguished landscape painter, who has lived so long in Rome, has returned to this country, bringing home a number of very beautiful paintings.

At the late meeting of the English Scientific Association, it was stated that about four thousand deaths occur annually in England from small pox, and that the lives of 3,500 might be saved by a proper attention to vaccination.

Lieutenant Governor Trask, of Mass., has recovered from the Hartford and New Haven Railroad Company, a verdict of $6,500 damages for the loss of buildings at Springfield, destroyed by fire in April last.

It is said that a dog of African breed, which belonged to Gen. Espinasse, who fell at Magenta, still lives about the spot where his master fell, and though often taken away, even to some distance, constantly returns.

It is said that about 462,000 of slaves population of the South belong to the church—about one-fourth of the whole African population.

A sea-breeze has been felt in England of a violent nature, and has done much mischief. It is 7 to 10 feet long, 12 feet broad, and 6 feet deep, and measured 21 tons. She has proved an admirable sea-bat.

The death sentence of Frisch, executed at Batavia, New York, for the murder of her child, has been commuted to imprisonment for life, on the ground of insanity.

The London Times announces another large Russian failure, that of Mr. Goussard, an eminent manufacturer at Moscow. His liabilities are $240,000 sterling. It is reported that he has committed suicide.

Messrs. Oils & Co., who are one of the most successful and extensive fishing firms on Lake Ontario, took two thousand fish at a single haul of their net, a few days since.

It is stated confidently that more than two thirds of the suicides which have been committed in the United States for the past six months have been the result of excessive use of intoxicating drinks.

The Free Press has migrated from California and purchased from the San Francisco Government a tract of one 10,000 acres of good arable land, at 12 1/2 cents per acre.

A long race of 44 miles took place in England on the 25th of October, between two fast runners named Mr. Lindley, of Norfolk, and Mr. Collins, of Norfolk. Lindley's horse performed the 44 miles in 2 hours 2 minutes beating Collins's by 3 minutes.

Miss Corbie Pigeon was awarded a premium for the best apple, and Miss Edith Seymour for the best pear of biscuit, at the fair recently held at Enonville, Madison county, Mississippi. These premiums will make good wheat.

Washington was now engaged in Washington in trying to get the foundation for the pedestal for the statue of George Washington, at the site of the city, and will probably be inaugurated on the 4th of February.

Lewis L. Jones, son of the late Gen. Jones, clerk in the Land office, committed suicide in Washington on Thursday by shooting himself. He had been very irregular in his habits for some time, and it is presumed that the act was committed under an attack of delirium tremens.

People here have generally supposed that malignancy and avarice were the chief excellencies of William F. Comly, that "self-importance" is another, and that he and his brothers really imagine themselves of sufficient importance to engross the care and attention of the Representatives of the Third District, to the exclusion of all his public and private duties.

Well this is decidedly "cool"—we rather guess it must have ice in it. But seriously believing this Deacon Comly may have been seen every morning for three weeks past, with ears thrown back, fore knees stiffened, tail turned in, and hair and hide all corrugated, in the true attitude of assinine firmness, resisting, yet resisting the efforts of the Hon. Clement L. Vallandigham to pull down the Journal office and put down the Comly family!

Well, we pity him; we sympathize with him; and hasten to correct his mistake and relieve him from his very unpleasant situation. We assure him that we have the best reason to believe that Mr. Vallandigham is friendly to the Journal and desires its continuance. We know that he regards it as a very valuable auxiliary in his political aspirations. We have even sometimes suspected that he has contributed means and influence to keep it up. Nor are we surprised at this. When the Journal first commenced that system of what superficial observers foolishly suppose "warfare" on Mr. V. he had been beaten for Congress some twenty six hundred votes; now after five or six years of apparent hostility and abuse he holds the "broad seal" from the same district and over the same competitor, by some two hundred majority. With this and other circumstances before them we think the public might begin to "suspect" something. At all events we have our own notions on the subject. But even supposing the yearly, monthly, weekly and daily abuse of Mr. V. by the Journal to be in good faith—supposing that it is really the outpouring of that innate diabolism and malignancy of temper and force for which all men give credit to W. F. Comly, two things are certain—first that Mr. V. pays no more regard to it or its authors than to the idle wind; and next that the only effect of it is to make him stronger and stronger. But in either event we feel sure that he is perfectly content it should continue, especially if it acts as a safety-valve to the gall of the editor and the readers of the Journal are willing to pay five dollars a year to see Mr. Vallandigham's name every day advertised gratis. We have heard but one regret expressed by Mr. V.'s friends; namely that the circulation of the Journal is not more widely extended.

NEWS ITEMS

Thursday, the 3d inst, was Thanksgiving day in Canada.

The weather is very wintry in England, and there is considerable frost and snow.

It is said that the commander of the British Navy has made a tour of four navy yards with a view to collecting information.

A young man named Burden has been on trial for the murder of his father at Eaton, Ind. The jury rendered a verdict of not guilty.

Professor Felton is a prominent candidate for the Presidency of Harvard College, which has just been vacated by Dr. Walker.

The people of Holderness, N. H., have recently held a levee, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to the purchase of a house for the village.

The Spanish Bishops, in imitation of the French, had commenced publishing pastoral letters in defense of the temporal power of the Pope.

The Memphis Bulletin says that within a fortnight two ladies of that city have collected a sum of $1,000 in aid of the Mount Vernon Fund.

The Michigan State Normal School building at Orono, was consumed by fire on Friday night. Loss $195,000. Insured for $100,000.

G. L. Brown, the distinguished landscape painter, who has lived so long in Rome, has returned to this country, bringing home a number of very beautiful paintings.

At the late meeting of the English Scientific Association, it was stated that about four thousand deaths occur annually in England from small pox, and that the lives of 3,500 might be saved by a proper attention to vaccination.

Lieutenant Governor Trask, of Mass., has recovered from the Hartford and New Haven Railroad Company, a verdict of $6,500 damages for the loss of buildings at Springfield, destroyed by fire in April last.

It is said that a dog of African breed, which belonged to Gen. Espinasse, who fell at Magenta, still lives about the spot where his master fell, and though often taken away, even to some distance, constantly returns.

It is said that about 462,000 of slaves population of the South belong to the church—about one-fourth of the whole African population.

A sea-breeze has been felt in England of a violent nature, and has done much mischief. It is 7 to 10 feet long, 12 feet broad, and 6 feet deep, and measured 21 tons. She has proved an admirable sea-bat.

The death sentence of Frisch, executed at Batavia, New York, for the murder of her child, has been commuted to imprisonment for life, on the ground of insanity.

The London Times announces another large Russian failure, that of Mr. Goussard, an eminent manufacturer at Moscow. His liabilities are $240,000 sterling. It is reported that he has committed suicide.

Messrs. Oils & Co., who are one of the most successful and extensive fishing firms on Lake Ontario, took two thousand fish at a single haul of their net, a few days since.

It is stated confidently that more than two thirds of the suicides which have been committed in the United States for the past six months have been the result of excessive use of intoxicating drinks.

The Free Press has migrated from California and purchased from the San Francisco Government a tract of one 10,000 acres of good arable land, at 12 1/2 cents per acre.

A long race of 44 miles took place in England on the 25th of October, between two fast runners named Mr. Lindley, of Norfolk, and Mr. Collins, of Norfolk. Lindley's horse performed the 44 miles in 2 hours 2 minutes beating Collins's by 3 minutes.

Miss Corbie Pigeon was awarded a premium for the best apple, and Miss Edith Seymour for the best pear of biscuit, at the fair recently held at Enonville, Madison county, Mississippi. These premiums will make good wheat.

Washington was now engaged in Washington in trying to get the foundation for the pedestal for the statue of George Washington, at the site of the city, and will probably be inaugurated on the 4th of February.

Lewis L. Jones, son of the late Gen. Jones, clerk in the Land office, committed suicide in Washington on Thursday by shooting himself. He had been very irregular in his habits for some time, and it is presumed that the act was committed under an attack of delirium tremens.

People here have generally supposed that malignancy and avarice were the chief excellencies of William F. Comly, that "self-importance" is another, and that he and his brothers really imagine themselves of sufficient importance to engross the care and attention of the Representatives of the Third District, to the exclusion of all his public and private duties.

Well this is decidedly "cool"—we rather guess it must have ice in it. But seriously believing this Deacon Comly may have been seen every morning for three weeks past, with ears thrown back, fore knees stiffened, tail turned in, and hair and hide all corrugated, in the true attitude of assinine firmness, resisting, yet resisting the efforts of the Hon. Clement L. Vallandigham to pull down the Journal office and put down the Comly family!

Well, we pity him; we sympathize with him; and hasten to correct his mistake and relieve him from his very unpleasant situation. We assure him that we have the best reason to believe that Mr. Vallandigham is friendly to the Journal and desires its continuance. We know that he regards it as a very valuable auxiliary in his political aspirations. We have even sometimes suspected that he has contributed means and influence to keep it up. Nor are we surprised at this. When the Journal first commenced that system of what superficial observers foolishly suppose "warfare" on Mr. V. he had been beaten for Congress some twenty six hundred votes; now after five or six years of apparent hostility and abuse he holds the "broad seal" from the same district and over the same competitor, by some two hundred majority. With this and other circumstances before them we think the public might begin to "suspect" something. At all events we have our own notions on the subject. But even supposing the yearly, monthly, weekly and daily abuse of Mr. V. by the Journal to be in good faith—supposing that it is really the outpouring of that innate diabolism and malignancy of temper and force for which all men give credit to W. F. Comly, two things are certain—first that Mr. V. pays no more regard to it or its authors than to the idle wind; and next that the only effect of it is to make him stronger and stronger. But in either event we feel sure that he is perfectly content it should continue, especially if it acts as a safety-valve to the gall of the editor and the readers of the Journal are willing to pay five dollars a year to see Mr. Vallandigham's name every day advertised gratis. We have heard but one regret expressed by Mr. V.'s friends; namely that the circulation of the Journal is not more widely extended.

NEWS ITEMS

Thursday, the 3d inst, was Thanksgiving day in Canada.

The weather is very wintry in England, and there is considerable frost and snow.

It is said that the commander of the British Navy has made a tour of four navy yards with a view to collecting information.

A young man named Burden has been on trial for the murder of his father at Eaton, Ind. The jury rendered a verdict of not guilty.

Professor Felton is a prominent candidate for the Presidency of Harvard College, which has just been vacated by Dr. Walker.

The people of Holderness, N. H., have recently held a levee, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to the purchase of a house for the village.

The Spanish Bishops, in imitation of the French, had commenced publishing pastoral letters in defense of the temporal power of the Pope.

The Memphis Bulletin says that within a fortnight two ladies of that city have collected a sum of $1,000 in aid of the Mount Vernon Fund.

The Michigan State Normal School building at Orono, was consumed by fire on Friday night. Loss $195,000. Insured for $100,000.

G. L. Brown, the distinguished landscape painter, who has lived so long in Rome, has returned to this country, bringing home a number of very beautiful paintings.

At the late meeting of the English Scientific Association, it was stated that about four thousand deaths occur annually in England from small pox, and that the lives of 3,500 might be saved by a proper attention to vaccination.

Lieutenant Governor Trask, of Mass., has recovered from the Hartford and New Haven Railroad Company, a verdict of $6,500 damages for the loss of buildings at Springfield, destroyed by fire in April last.

It is said that a dog of African breed, which belonged to Gen. Espinasse, who fell at Magenta, still lives about the spot where his master fell, and though often taken away, even to some distance, constantly returns.

It is said that about 462,000 of slaves population of the South belong to the church—about one-fourth of the whole African population.

A sea-breeze has been felt in England of a violent nature, and has done much mischief. It is 7 to 10 feet long, 12 feet broad, and 6 feet deep, and measured 21 tons. She has proved an admirable sea-bat.

The death sentence of Frisch, executed at Batavia, New York, for the murder of her child, has been commuted to imprisonment for life, on the ground of insanity.

The London Times announces another large Russian failure, that of Mr. Goussard, an eminent manufacturer at Moscow. His liabilities are $240,000 sterling. It is reported that he has committed suicide.

Messrs. Oils & Co., who are one of the most successful and extensive fishing firms on Lake Ontario, took two thousand fish at a single haul of their net, a few days since.

It is stated confidently that more than two thirds of the suicides which have been committed in the United States for the past six months have been the result of excessive use of intoxicating drinks.

The Free Press has migrated from California and purchased from the San Francisco Government a tract of one 10,000 acres of good arable land, at 12 1/2 cents per acre.

A long race of 44 miles took place in England on the 25th of October, between two fast runners named Mr. Lindley, of Norfolk, and Mr. Collins, of Norfolk. Lindley's horse performed the 44 miles in 2 hours 2 minutes beating Collins's by 3 minutes.

Miss Corbie Pigeon was awarded a premium for the best apple, and Miss Edith Seymour for the best pear of biscuit, at the fair recently held at Enonville, Madison county, Mississippi. These premiums will make good wheat.

Washington was now engaged in Washington in trying to get the foundation for the pedestal for the statue of George Washington, at the site of the city, and will probably be inaugurated on the 4th of February.

Lewis L. Jones, son of the late Gen. Jones, clerk in the Land office, committed suicide in Washington on Thursday by shooting himself. He had been very irregular in his habits for some time, and it is presumed that the act was committed under an attack of delirium tremens.

People here have generally supposed that malignancy and avarice were the chief excellencies of William F. Comly, that "self-importance" is another, and that he and his brothers really imagine themselves of sufficient importance to engross the care and attention of the Representatives of the Third District, to the exclusion of all his public and private duties.

Well this is decidedly "cool"—we rather guess it must have ice in it. But seriously believing this Deacon Comly may have been seen every morning for three weeks past, with ears thrown back, fore knees stiffened, tail turned in, and hair and hide all corrugated, in the true attitude of assinine firmness, resisting, yet resisting the efforts of the Hon. Clement L. Vallandigham to pull down the Journal office and put down the Comly family!

Well, we pity him; we sympathize with him; and hasten to correct his mistake and relieve him from his very unpleasant situation. We assure him that we have the best reason to believe that Mr. Vallandigham is friendly to the Journal and desires its continuance. We know that he regards it as a very valuable auxiliary in his political aspirations. We have even sometimes suspected that he has contributed means and influence to keep it up. Nor are we surprised at this. When the Journal first commenced that system of what superficial observers foolishly suppose "warfare" on Mr. V. he had been beaten for Congress some twenty six hundred votes; now after five or six years of apparent hostility and abuse he holds the "broad seal" from the same district and over the same competitor, by some two hundred majority. With this and other circumstances before them we think the public might begin to "suspect" something. At all events we have our own notions on the subject. But even supposing the yearly, monthly, weekly and daily abuse of Mr. V. by the Journal to be in good faith—supposing that it is really the outpouring of that innate diabolism and malignancy of temper and force for which all men give credit to W. F. Comly, two things are certain—first that Mr. V. pays no more regard to it or its authors than to the idle wind; and next that the only effect of it is to make him stronger and stronger. But in either event we feel sure that he is perfectly content it should continue, especially if it acts as a safety-valve to the gall of the editor and the readers of the Journal are willing to pay five dollars a year to see Mr. Vallandigham's name every day advertised gratis. We have heard but one regret expressed by Mr. V.'s friends; namely that the circulation of the Journal is not more widely extended.

NEWS ITEMS

Thursday, the 3d inst, was Thanksgiving day in Canada.

The weather is very wintry in England, and there is considerable frost and snow.

It is said that the commander of the British Navy has made a tour of four navy yards with a view to collecting information.

A young man named Burden has been on trial for the murder of his father at Eaton, Ind. The jury rendered a verdict of not guilty.

Professor Felton is a prominent candidate for the Presidency of Harvard College, which has just been vacated by Dr. Walker.

The people of Holderness, N. H., have recently held a levee, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to the purchase of a house for the village.

The Spanish Bishops, in imitation of the French, had commenced publishing pastoral letters in defense of the temporal power of the Pope.

The Memphis Bulletin says that within a fortnight two ladies of that city have collected a sum of $1,000 in aid of the Mount Vernon Fund.

The Michigan State Normal School building at Orono, was consumed by fire on Friday night. Loss $195,000. Insured for $100,000.

G. L. Brown, the distinguished landscape painter, who has lived so long in Rome, has returned to this country, bringing home a number of very beautiful paintings.

At the late meeting of the English Scientific Association, it was stated that about four thousand deaths occur annually in England from small pox, and that the lives of 3,500 might be saved by a proper attention to vaccination.

Lieutenant Governor Trask, of Mass., has recovered from the Hartford and New Haven Railroad Company, a verdict of $6,500 damages for the loss of buildings at Springfield, destroyed by fire in April last.

It is said that a dog of African breed, which belonged to Gen. Espinasse, who fell at Magenta, still lives about the spot where his master fell, and though often taken away, even to some distance, constantly returns.

It is said that about 462,000 of slaves population of the South belong to the church—about one-fourth of the whole African population.

A sea-breeze has been felt in England of a violent nature, and has done much mischief. It is 7 to 10 feet long, 12 feet broad, and 6 feet deep, and measured 21 tons. She has proved an admirable sea-bat.

The death sentence of Frisch, executed at Batavia, New York, for the murder of her child, has been commuted to imprisonment for life, on the ground of insanity.

The London Times announces another large Russian failure, that of Mr. Goussard, an eminent manufacturer at Moscow. His liabilities are $240,000 sterling. It is reported that he has committed suicide.

Messrs. Oils & Co., who are one of the most successful and extensive fishing firms on Lake Ontario, took two thousand fish at a single haul of their net, a few days since.

It is stated confidently that more than two thirds of the suicides which have been committed in the United States for the past six months have been the result of excessive use of intoxicating drinks.

The Free Press has migrated from California and purchased from the San Francisco Government a tract of one 10,000 acres of good arable land, at 12 1/2 cents per acre.

A long race of 44 miles took place in England on the 25th of October, between two fast runners named Mr. Lindley, of Norfolk, and Mr. Collins, of Norfolk. Lindley's horse performed the 44 miles in 2 hours 2 minutes beating Collins's by 3 minutes.

Miss Corbie Pigeon was awarded a premium for the best apple, and Miss Edith Seymour for the best pear of biscuit, at the fair recently held at Enonville, Madison county, Mississippi. These premiums will make good wheat.

Washington was now engaged in Washington in trying to get the foundation for the pedestal for the statue of George Washington, at the site of the city, and will probably be inaugurated on the 4th of February.

Lewis L. Jones, son of the late Gen. Jones, clerk in the Land office, committed suicide in Washington on Thursday by shooting himself. He had been very irregular in his habits for some time, and it is presumed that the act was committed under an attack of delirium tremens.

People here have generally supposed that malignancy and avarice were the chief excellencies of William F. Comly, that "self-importance" is another, and that he and his brothers really imagine themselves of sufficient importance to engross the care and attention of the Representatives of the Third District, to the exclusion of all his public and private duties.

Well this is decidedly "cool"—we rather guess it must have ice in it. But seriously believing this Deacon Comly may have been seen every morning for three weeks past, with ears thrown back, fore knees stiffened, tail turned in, and hair and hide all corrugated, in the true attitude of assinine firmness, resisting, yet resisting the efforts of the Hon. Clement L. Vallandigham to pull down the Journal office and put down the Comly family!

Well, we pity him; we sympathize with him; and hasten to correct his mistake and relieve him from his very unpleasant situation. We assure him that we have the best reason to believe that Mr. Vallandigham is friendly to the Journal and desires its continuance. We know that he regards it as a very valuable auxiliary in his political aspirations. We have even sometimes suspected that he has contributed means and influence to keep it up. Nor are we surprised at this. When the Journal first commenced that system of what superficial observers foolishly suppose "warfare" on Mr. V. he had been beaten for Congress some twenty six hundred votes; now after five or six years of apparent hostility and abuse he holds the "broad seal" from the same district and over the same competitor, by some two hundred majority. With this and other circumstances before them we think the public might begin to "suspect" something. At all events we have our own notions on the subject. But even supposing the yearly, monthly, weekly and daily abuse of Mr. V. by the Journal to be in good faith—supposing that it is really the outpouring of that innate diabolism and malignancy of temper and force for which all men give credit to W. F. Comly, two things are certain—first that Mr. V. pays no more regard to it or its authors than to the idle wind; and next that the only effect of it is to make him stronger and stronger. But in either event we feel sure that he is perfectly content it should continue, especially if it acts as a safety-valve to the gall of the editor and the readers of the Journal are willing to pay five dollars a year to see Mr. Vallandigham's name every day advertised gratis. We have heard but one regret expressed by Mr. V.'s friends; namely that the circulation of the Journal is not more widely extended.

NEWS ITEMS

Thursday, the 3d inst, was Thanksgiving day in Canada.

The weather is very wintry in England, and there is considerable frost and snow.

It is said that the commander of the British Navy has made a tour of four navy yards with a view to collecting information.

A young man named Burden has been on trial for the murder of his father at Eaton, Ind. The jury rendered a verdict of not guilty.

Professor Felton is a prominent candidate for the Presidency of Harvard College, which has just been vacated by Dr. Walker.

The people of Holderness, N. H., have recently held a levee, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to the purchase of a house for the village.

The Spanish Bishops, in imitation of the French, had commenced publishing pastoral letters in defense of the temporal power of the Pope.

The Memphis Bulletin says that within a fortnight two ladies of that city have collected a sum of $1,000 in aid of the Mount Vernon Fund.

The Michigan State Normal School building at Orono, was consumed by fire on Friday night. Loss $195,000. Insured for $100,000.

G. L. Brown, the distinguished landscape painter, who has lived so long in Rome, has returned to this country, bringing home a number of very beautiful paintings.

At the late meeting of the English Scientific Association, it was stated that about four thousand deaths occur annually in England from small pox, and that the lives of 3,500 might be saved by a proper attention to vaccination.

Lieutenant Governor Trask, of Mass., has recovered from the Hartford and New Haven Railroad Company, a verdict of $6,500 damages for the loss of buildings at Springfield, destroyed by fire in April last.

It is said that a dog of African breed, which belonged to Gen. Espinasse, who fell at Magenta, still lives about the spot where his master fell, and though often taken away, even to some distance, constantly returns.

It is said that about 462,000 of slaves population of the South belong to the church—about one-fourth of the whole African population.

A sea-breeze has been felt in England of a violent nature, and has done much mischief. It is 7 to 10 feet long, 12 feet broad, and 6 feet deep, and measured 21 tons. She has proved an admirable sea-bat.

The death sentence of Frisch, executed at Batavia, New York, for the murder of her child, has been commuted to imprisonment for life, on the ground of insanity.

The London Times announces another large Russian failure, that of Mr. Goussard, an eminent manufacturer at Moscow. His liabilities are $240,000 sterling. It is reported that he has committed suicide.

Messrs. Oils & Co., who are one of the most successful and extensive fishing firms on Lake Ontario, took two thousand fish at a single haul of their net, a few days since.

It is stated confidently that more than two thirds of the suicides which have been committed in the United States for the past six months have been the result of excessive use of intoxicating drinks.

The Free Press has migrated from California and purchased from the San Francisco Government a tract of one 10,000 acres of good arable land, at 12 1/2 cents per acre.

A long race of 44 miles took place in England on the 25th of October, between two fast runners named Mr. Lindley, of Norfolk, and Mr. Collins, of Norfolk. Lindley's horse performed the 44 miles in 2 hours 2 minutes beating Collins's by 3 minutes.

Miss Corbie Pigeon was awarded a premium for the best apple, and Miss Edith Seymour for the best pear of biscuit, at the fair recently held at Enonville, Madison county, Mississippi. These premiums will make good wheat.

Washington was now engaged in Washington in trying to get the foundation for the pedestal for the statue of George Washington, at the site of the city, and will probably be inaugurated on the 4th of February.